

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An embodiment of the present invention is a technique to provide heat extraction for semiconductor devices. At least a thermoelectric film is fabricated onto a bare wafer. The backside of the bare wafer is bonded to an active wafer having at least a device. The bonded bare and active wafers are annealed.